About the Company

We are a young Fin-tech founded due to frustrations with rigid trading technologies. We are passionate about creating flexible and forward thinking software that has the user's needs at the heart of it.

We're based in the super central Moorgate. The office is a great place to work and hosts design and tech events weekly providing a great work / play mix. We also have offices in Hong Kong and are expanding to New York so there are opportunities to explore outside of England's green and pleasant land.
